

BAZIGUA & WORLD CUP FEVER

It wasn't intentional. Was it a coincidence? NO, more likely it's due to the synchronicity of the Qi energies in the time/space and the elements, at the time of divination.

When I released my BaziGua software at a private BaziClub gathering on Thursday 29th June 2006, doing a BaziGua oracle on the WORLD CUP 2006 matches wasn't on my mind, although an overseas friend did asked me days before whether Swiss can win Argentina in one of the matches.

So, what has World Cup 2006 got to do with BaziGua then?

A registered user (let's call her "Karen") called me on Friday 30th June morning (the day after she'd registered the software) and wanted to seek my advice on how to analyse the BaziGua chart she had initiated. After much probing, the question she asked was something like "Will Argentina win the match against Germany?"

"I don't watch World Cup. I'm not a football/soccer fan", I told myself. Furthermore, we should respect the oracle system as it should be, and not abuse/misuse it as a gambling/betting analytical tool. "But it's for fun only... No money is involved!" she said. "OK.. Ok", I reluctantly explained the 'workings' of the system.

I wasn't surprised with people using BaziGua or any other oracle/divination systems like I-Ching to predict World Cup results. A few days earlier, an overseas friend of mine asked me "Who will win, Swiss or Ukraine?" When initiating a BaziGua oracle, the question has to be very direct and specific. Asking question like "Will Swiss or Ukraine win?" or "Is it a Boy or a Girl?" will not provide accurate/positive answers, and in many cases, confusing ones.

Below are my predictions (all done in Singapore local time) and my observations done before the matches started. My predictions were told to friends, relatives and colleagues before the matches, most of them, days before. I wrote this article to illustrate how I used the "Ba Zi Shen Gua" (八字神卦) system, the BaziGua software, and most importantly, my intuition and analysis.

Question: Will Swiss win the match against Ukraine?

On the right is the BaziGua chart plotted hours before the match. SWISS is represented by the Day Master Yang Fire (丙). Technically, The Day Master is born in Season (午) which makes it strong.

There is a 'Fu Yin' duplication in the Day pillar (丙戌) and the Year pillar (丙戌) which could imply a relationship problem with the spouse when we look at it from standard Bazi analysis. The DAY Master gets easily distracted and agitated as a result. On top of that, there is a directional clash in the Career palace (HOUR Pillar) which could imply that the Day Master's career may be somewhat affected. What this could imply is that the SWISS players are under pressure to perform well, but mentally, because of the 'Fu Yin', their minds are being self-pressured and distracted.

In addition, the MINUTE pillar has strong Water (壬子) elements (the Authority 正官 and Fighting Spirit 七杀) attacking and weakening the Day Master who is already agitated and distracted by the 'Fu Yin' issue. The MINUTE pillar has a higher percentage of influence in terms of exerting the Qi energies as the divination is all about time, space and energies.

Thus, we can say that the Day Master is weak. And when it's weak, confused, and distracted, how can the Day Master (Swiss) compete strongly against others in a competition?

Now, back to the question asked by Karen.

Question: Will Argentina win the match over Germany?

The Day Master (庚) is not born in Season, and in Summer, the Metal is HOT. There is an indication of "Metal Axe chopping the Tree (Wood)" effect in the Day Pillar itself, which could imply a weakening state.

The MINUTES and HOUR Palaces (reflecting the career and skills) are criss-crossed by the Metal and Fire (七杀) elements, which could imply a conflicting and confused state.

If we look the at Combination of the Heavenly Stems in both Hour and Minutes Pillars (丙辛), it changes to water (水), which further weakens the Day Master.

When a Day Master is constantly chopping the wood (self-inflict?) and career/skill is being constantly controlled and pressured by others, it may not have the strength and energy to compete with others and win the match.

Question: Which country will win the World Cup 2006?

Now that you know the countries competing for the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places, the questions asked will be “What are the predictions for the 4 teams – Italy vs France and Portugal vs Germany?” My predictions were done much earlier, and made known to some close friends and relatives. Instead of telling you what my predictions are, I’ll leave it to you to explore it on your own which should not be an issue once you have your copy of BaziGua!

I’d also like to take this opportunity to thank those who had registered BaziGua at the private BaziClub gathering - your continuing support will motivate me to develop more Chinese Metaphysic software. Here’s my advice to all registered BaziGua users:

Have faith in the “Ba Zi Shen Gua” system, and have faith in your analysis using BaziGua, and your intuition.

Conclusion

Using BaziGua is similar to using I-CHING where divination and oracle is concerned. Though there could have been signs that indicate certain characteristics, a portion of self intuition is ‘involved’.

No one is always correct in every prediction as there could be many contributing factors that could arise on the last minute. A ‘win’ by prediction could result in a ‘draw’ due to some unknown reasons. We can always revisit the case once the results are gathered, so that we can ‘reverse-engineered’ the case history again and find out why and how the event took place.

We developed BaziGua as an alternative system to the traditional divination system. BaziGua is fast and instant. The whole concept of “Ba Zi Shen Gua” (八字神卦) system is unique and interesting. We’re glad to introduce you this system through BaziGua which shortens the learning curve; and makes the learning more experiential.

For me, it was truly an experiential experience using the World Cup 2006 as a platform for my case study and to improve my skills.

Learning the “Ba Zi Shen Gua” (八字神卦) system does not require any coins to be thrown. It does not require total silence and concentration. It does not require you asking the question in deep thought. What it does is, you do need a clear understanding of the basic fundamentals of Bazi and its related components like Symbolic Star, 10 Deities/Gods and the Clashes/Combinations. We’re glad to say that these are included in BaziGua which can be used as a standalone program, or as a complementary tool to our BaziCalc software.

Together, you will have a powerful set of tools to assist you in your Bazi analysis and predictions!

Why don’t you try using BaziGua and do a prediction yourself?

Information on BaziGua is not available at our web site yet. You may, however, download the BaziGua manual (saved in Acrobat PDF format) at:
